

Each filled, orange node represents an activity recorded in the DB, and its label is the name of the corresponding stored procedure.
Each empty, orange node is a silent activity.
If there are multiple outgoing arcs, an exclusive choice is made according to the description on the arcs except for the arcs connected by a dashed line, which are followed jointly.

